Subject:- Attitude of the public towards enemy parachutists or air borne or invasion troops.

CHIEF SECRETARY,
17. JUN. 1942
GOVT. OF MYSORE.

SIR,

I am directed to say that the Government of India have asked all Provincial Governments to issue instructions to the general public, in the event of invasion of any kind, to carry on with their normal occupation as far as possible taking cover as danger approaches, and to keep clear of roads.

2. If threatened the general public have the right to defend themselves, their family and their home. They are not advised to involve themselves in fighting. On the other hand it is their primary duty to give as quickly as possible, to the police, or any Government official, information about parachutists or other enemy troops in the locality. They should further be encouraged to refuse all cooperation with the enemy, particularly to abstain from giving him true information and from acting as guides.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

Secretary to the Resident in Mysore.

Police measures for Internal Security - Proposed grant of some bonus or allowance to members of Police Forces whose duties are more than usually onerous on account of war.

SIR,

In continuation of my secret letter No.F.43/1942 dated the 17th June 1942, I am directed to enclose for the information of the Government of Mysore a copy of a circular letter from the Government of India, Home Department, No.174/34/42-Police dated the 4th June 1942 (paragraphs 1 to 3).

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

SECRETARY TO THE RESIDENT.

Secret.

Copy of Express letter No.174/34/42-Police dated the 4th June 1942 from the Government of Indiam Home Department, New Delhi, to all Provincial Governments and Chief Commissioners.

Proposed grant of some bonus or allowance to members of Provincial Police Forces whose duties are more than usually onerous on account of the war.

The present emergency has added greatly to the work of the Police, and their duties, besides being of the utmost importance, are probably now more arduous and, in certain areas, involve greater danger than has ever been the case before. The Government of India are aware that certain Provincial Governments have already taken up the question of improving the conditions of service in their Police and they consider that all Provincial Governments should now give this matter their attention. In one Province the concessions appear to have taken the form of granting an extra allowance for approved service in danger areas and providing certain amenities in areas where long hours of work are entailed. In another Province the proposal is to grant a gratuity at the rate of one month's pay for each year of service to the additional Police, who have presumably been recruited on a temporary basis for the period of the war.

2. The Army have recently sanctioned a substantial all round increase in deferred pay; and the Government of India have under consideration the question of the grant of concessions to essential personnel of Central Government Services who may be required to stay in threatened areas when a special emergency arises. The concessions may take the form of

(a) a bonus of10% of pay on declaration of the existence of special emergency and 10% at the end of the war, mainly to non-gazetted staff; and

(b) free living accommodation, rations and transport from the time when air raids begin in their areas.

Concessions of this nature may not be altogether suitable for the Police, many of whom, both temporary and permanent, are already bearing the extra strain of preserving internal security in areas which are not actually threatened by enemy attack and may have to bear an increased strain if war conditions lead to circumstances of disorder. It is, of course true that the temporary Police, like many units in the Army will be liable to demobilisation after the war and may therefore possess a stronger claim to additional concessions than the permanent Police. On the other hand, many of the permanent police are subjected to an equal strain and it would be a mistake to do nothing for them.

3. Conditions vary in different provinces and the matter is obviously one in which complete uniformity is neither necessary nor desirable. It must be left to Provincial Governments to work out their own schemes, after such consultation with their neighbours as they consider necessary; but the Government of India would be glad to be informed of the results as early as possible and trust that all Provincial Governments will accept the principle that the extra expenditure involved will be fully worth while. In formulating their schemes Provincial Governments will no doubt consider the areas to which they should apply, the limits of rank or pay below which concessions are required, and the extent to which pecuniary benefits can be deferred until after the end of the war.
